Dear Carmen:

Thank you very much for the entertainment you provided at our recent event.

You found a way to incorporate construction humor into your references to other, everyday amusing situations. We liked how you tailored your presentation to our group including working with the person who introduced you. You knew just how far to go to make the presentation suitable for adults but still business appropriate. I heard many people say they hadn't laughed that much or that hard in a long time!

Best of luck with all of your upcoming events.

Thanks again, Carmen.
